Haiku Community Center improvement project announced

Work has begun on upgrading the Haiku Community Center's restroom and kitchen, the Department of Parks and Recreation announced.

"This project is more progress toward improving public park facilities for our residents," Mayor Michael Victorino said. "Improvements will include new kitchen appliances, stainless steel counters, new restroom partitions and all new fixtures and finishes. I want to thank everyone for their patience while work is ongoing."

Other improvements include a new grease interceptor, electrical and ventilation improvements and accessibility improvements to comply with the American with Disabilities Accessibility Guidelines.

The community center has been closed because of COVID-19, and improvement work will keep it closed through April 30, 2021. Members of the public are asked to stay outside the work area for their safety.

Central Construction Inc. is the contractor for the $692,546.44 project.
